

NOMA screens 'Fashion on Film' series to accompany fashion exhibit

Posted By Kat Stromquist on Wed, Feb 7, 2018

OMAR VICTOR DIOP / COURTESY MAGNIN-A GALLERY

"A Queen Within: Adorned Archetypes" opens Feb. 21.

New Orleans Museum of Art will screen six documentaries about the fashion industry this spring in conjunction with "A Queen Within: Adorned Archetypes," its first-ever fashion exhibit which opens Feb. 21.

The film series kicks off March 2 with The Legacy of Alexander McQueen, which is a profile of the avant-garde designer whose 2010 suicide rocked the fashion world. McQueen's work figures prominently in "A Queen Within: Adorned Archetypes."

There also is a documentary about the making of Vogue's annual tomelike September issue, which sets the tone for fashion coverage for the coming year, and a profile of shoe designer and Sex and the City-era household name Manolo Blahnik.

Here's the complete schedule, which screen at the museum's campus in City Park.

March 2: The Legacy of Alexander McQueen at 6:30 p.m.

March 3: The First Monday in May at 2 p.m.

April 7: Manolo: The Boy Who Made Shoes for Lizards at 2 p.m.

April 20: Bangalogia: The Science of Style and Sapeurs: The Men Inside the Suits at 7 p.m.

May 18: The September Issue at 9 p.m.

<https://www.bestofneworleans.com/thelatest/archives/2018/02/07/noma-screens-fashion-on-film-series-to-accompany-fashion-exhibit>