The transnational art platform, 1:54 Contemporary African Art Fair, will return to Pioneer Works in Red Hook, Brooklyn, where it launched in 2015. Coinciding with Frieze Art Week, the fair will run from 5-8 May 2016. In a veritable buffet of art and culture, the 2016 edition of 1:54 will showcase seventeen galleries from nine countries, in addition to an impressive selection of works by over sixty artists from twenty-seven countries working in diverse mediums. The fair will also include an educational and artistic programme curated by Koyo Kouoh; featuring lectures, film screenings and panel debates, with leading international curators, artists and art experts.

Fair Founder Touria El Glaoui has stated, "The energy, interest, and overall success of the inaugural US fair in 2015 has lead us to return this May in hopes of broadening our reach and expanding the art world's knowledge of Africa and the ever-evolving African art market."
